

WATERFORD CITY TO BELVIEW PORT

PROJECT ROUTING

Leaving Waterford City the route proposes to use the South East Greenway (New Ross to Waterford City). The South East Greenway has received planning permission and is currently at detailed design stage. The South East Greenway will ultimately form part of the planned national greenway network connecting Waterford, Wexford, Kilkenny and Carlow to Dublin & beyond.

The route from Waterford City to Belview port proposes to leave the South East Greenway where it is approximately at grade, marked as Point A on the map, crossing the L7482 local road to enter agricultural lands to the east. The route then follows existing field boundaries until it reaches Point B. The route then meets the railway line just to the east of Belview Port.

Routing from South East Greenway to Belview Port